NEWS IN BRIEF.

From the West.

Ten days since at John Hatcher, a brother of Thomas Hatcher, member of the Cherokee National Council

W. P. Walton, Editor and Proprietor.
T. R. Walton, Jr., Business Manager.

QUITE a sensation was created in Louisville a few days ago by the robbery of the Planters National Bank of $110,000. Louis Rehm, the Teller and book-keeper, who enjoyed the utmost confidence of the officers of the bank committed the act, and succeeded by cutting and otherwise tampering himself to give plausibility to the story that he had been chloroformed, taken from home and by the robbers compelled to open the bank under threat of immediate death on his refusal. He stood to the story for some time, but got so wound up in a cross examination that he finally broke down and told the truth—that he had stolen the money himself, and that he had been driven to it by unfortunate speculations. He was held for trial and his bail fixed at $50,000. It has been subsequently found out that he had taken money at various times. Most of the amount stolen the other night he returned.

HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS, in his speech at De Soto, Mo., the other day, said that he favored a direct trade with Europe, and asserted that specie resumption was impracticable until our exports exceed our imports. He also declared that Congress had no authority to declare that specie payments should be resumed at a certain date, and that in the present condition of the country, more currency is needed. The speech of Mr. Davis was loudly applauded, and seemed to give much satisfaction. Mr. Davis, we judge, is evidently in sympathy with the Democracy of Ohio, and doubtless thinks that Governor Allen will be re-elected. We feel sure that the tidal wave has set in, and that nothing short of a Democratic President will satisfy them.

ANOTHER BANK ROBBERY.—On Monday last, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, four men rode up to the Huntington Bank, of Huntington, West Virginia, two of whom dismounted and went in, while the other two guarded the outside. The President being at dinner, business was left in charge of the Cashier, of whom the keys of the safe were demanded. He refused at first to give them up, but the robbers drew revolvers and held them in his face, threatening to kill him, and finally succeeded in getting the keys, and opening the safe and stealing about $13,000. They then galloped off in a Southern direction. Officers and citizens started in pursuit at once, and police at all adjacent points were notified of the robbery.

THE New York State Republican Convention met the other day, and they asked the Liberal Republicans to unite with them against the Democrats. They also nominated Fred Seward for Secretary of State, and old man F. E. Spinner, former U. S. Treasurer, for Controller. Evidently, the Radicals of the Empire State, are greatly alarmed, and, like drowning men, aim to catch at straws. The signs of the times are most propitious, fellow Democrats! Keep your powder dry, and all will be well.

As usual, the papers are now trying to make a demi-god out of Ralston, the defaulting President of the Bank of California. Had he been a poor devil of a thief, and stolen only a few dollars, the State prison would have been his just portion. (?) But as he has lived like a lord, on the fat of the land, and squandered in riotous living the hard earnings of many an honest and unassuming depositor, his name and fame are to be written as immortal, and his tombstone daily and truly inscribed as a bold hero.

A QUAKER agent, as we learn from the Courier-Journal, has been operating in the county of Hardin, as a land buyer. He made quite extensive purchases, but on the eve of settlement, he disappeared, and, of course left his friends minus their pay. It is a high compliment to our friends of the Quaker persuasion, that any one, even a sneak, should use their garb and manners in order to deceive any one.

CALIFORNIA has gone Democratic by an overwhelming majority. Samuel Bowles, editor of the Springfield, (Mass.) Republican, a leading Radical paper, says this result indicates the course of events in Ohio next month, and very probably those of 1876 and is rather of the opinion that we are to have a Democratic President next year. Won't that be splendid?

KENTUCKY, California, Connecticut and North Carolina, send 34 members to Congress, all Democratic.—Ohio will send this number very materially. The ball is moving—that tidal wave is swelling more grandly every day, and Democrats "rejoice with exceeding gladness."

THE whites and blacks have entered into a regular crusade for the purpose of driving out the shameless carpet-baggers and other scoundrels who have for so long a time infested and cursed the Southern States. Success to them.

THE Democratic and Liberal State Convention of Wisconsin, met at Milwaukee, the other day, and in their resolutions, opposed every form of corruption, of place or power, either State or Federal. The action of the noble people of this State deserves honorable mention. They also asserted that no State had a right to protect its citizens from monopolized capital. The Wisconsin State officers were also re-nominated for their present positions.

Mundy and Saukey, the great evangelists and singers, aided by Whittle and Bliss, who are scarcely their inferiors, have begun a revival at Northfield, Mass., the native town of Mr. Mundy, and the first sermon of the latter gentleman is spoken of by the papers as being an effective and powerful one.

BENJAMIN FINZER, one of the five brothers who run the largest tobacco manufacturing in Louisville, died in that city on Wednesday last, after a short illness. He was the oldest member of the firm, although he was only about 35 years old.

THE late Governor, T. E. Bramlette was thought to have given pardon to a great many convicts in our Penitentiary. It is now stated that Governor Leslie pardoned over 500 convicts during his term of office.

JENNIE JUNE, the Courier-Journal's special fashion correspondent, says striped stockings are only worn by stage initiators. Ladies of real distinction and refinement will not wear them. That's what makes us say what we do say.

MAL. J. M. WRIGHT, of Louisville, who was Adjutant General on Buell's staff during the war, has been appointed Adj. General of Kentucky, by Gov. McCreary, at a salary of $1200 per year.

THE whites and blacks got into a regular melee down in Mississippi last week, and blood was shed. All this, too, over a bottle of rot-gut whiskey which was taken into camp by a Radical carpet-lagger.

THE new direct cable telegraph has been successfully laid between this country and Europe. It is thought that the cable telegrams will now be transmitted at a much less cost to our commercial men and others.

WITHIN a few days there will be a lightning fast mail train from New York to Chicago, which will put the Eastern mail into Louisville and other Southern cities twelve hours sooner than ever before.

HON. JEFFERSON DAVIS has been invited to speak in several places out in the Great West, this fall, and has accepted the invitations. What do the Wingebees think of it?

STILL ANOTHER.—A Bank in Greenville, Ky., was entered by burglars the other night, and robbed of $40,000 in bonds and money. Did the James and Younger brothers do it?

FEWER counties in this State have held fairs this year than for many in the past. The long wet spell, failure of several of the crops and universal hard times, account for it.

HESSE TURNER who slept so sweetly, the sleep of the innocent, while Tilton "toted" her up a flight of stairs, is writing a novel. So's Tilton.

THE Democratic papers of the State and country, wish to know why it is, that one Delano does not resign.

THERE are 671 women in Paris, France, who earn their daily bread by sitting as models for artists.

GEN. J. S. WILLIAMS is a Granger.

Visit to Richmond.

Went on a flying visit to Richmond, by rail, last Saturday, to see the big Circus and Menagerie, that were hauled over the railroad through Maxville, Saturday morning without stopping—every acquaintance declared, who learned our destination, and almost every one who observed our clean duster and polished shoes, to say nothing of others of the best articles of our country wardrobe, asked, "Where are you going?"

Our trip was to pay a visit to a relation, and to see a portion of Madison county and her capital, to which we were an utter stranger, but we confided to having gone to the "show." How could we help it, when the texts were spread within an easy stone's throw of our hotel's residence? It was a "show," a good one, and we felt sad in the realization that our dear friends, Art and Daisy, were not present to share our enjoyment of the rare specimens of the clown, which we feel safe in saying, don't antedate the Coliseum.

The splendid country visible from the cars on Moran's Summit sustains the almost extravagant representations we have heard of Madison soil, and the slightly redoubtable, substantial fences, and clean fences, evince the thrift of their owners.

From Point Look on the corn crop is more promising than any we have seen in Garrard, Boyle, Mercer or Lincoln, the stalks not having exhibited that remarkable propensity to shoot peculiar to the counties mentioned. The level, woodland pastures are overgrown by an exuberant carpet of rag-weeds as ever distressed a farmer, but the backs of ponderous bullocks visible above those weeds, declare a flourish, beneath that last of grasses, the "blue." To make an original (?) application of the adjective in this connection, the prospect from Moran Summit, is perfectly charming, and gloriously in contrast with almost every view from a meadow between Louisville and Richmond. We had heard of Richmond's "bluebirds in disguise," the firs, and of her gas-works, but were not prepared to be ushered into a burg so civilized. The rushing crowd, cles of hack drivers, and general hubbub at the depot of arrival of the train, were as stunning as in a much more metropolitan city. Our handsome young friend, and townsman, Jim McKinney, Ticket, Freight Agent, and Telegraph operator, was sitting about through the jam with that smiling alacrity and remarkable courtesy, conspicuous in him when here in a subordinate capacity—traits of such distressing rarity amongst a certain class of public servants as to make him perfectly lovely to a traveler, and universally popular with acquaintances, both business and social. A health to Jim—May his days be long and his life be as delightful to himself, as his good nature is to his friends.

The Circus had drawn thousands to the town, and Main Street presented the appearance of a city thronged. Hand-some residences, and magnificent business houses greet the eye at every turn; and, together, with the almost universal touching that the older buildings have lately received, Richmond presents a delightfully fresh appearance. Whilst many of the old landmarks have been destroyed by fire, and their disappearance will fill with sadness the hearts of old acquaintances after long absence, the improved modern buildings, which have succeeded them are pleasing to a stranger's eye. The new business houses have all the modern improvements and conveniences, and some are perfect gems in their appointments. The suburban residences are of handsome architecture, and more striking surroundings than those of Richmond's sister towns.

The new College building, Professors' residences, and many other new and handsome buildings, make Lancaster Avenue one of the most attractive drives about the city.

In a long letter we did not mention a little of what we saw as we drove to Richmond. To speak of Madison hospitality, which has become proverbial, would be superfluous. This noble has already grown so familiarly long, but we can't stop without mentioning every one visiting Richmond, who has an hour to devote to the town and environs, to visit the Cemetery. If not, that should be the pride of her citizens.

Louisville nor Lexington, can more convincingly grow eloquent in praise of her neighbor, than can Richmond. Between thirty and forty monuments, some magnificent, embellish, whilst their inscriptions admiration of Madison's reverence of her dead. An admirable arrangement of evergreens materially enhances the beauties; system being evolved at every turn, the utter lack of which mars the beauties of small Cemeteries in general. We were shown the imprints of bullets on some of the shells, used in the battle at Richmond, in '62, some of which will be as enduring as the inscriptions commemorative of the virtues of those over whose remains those monuments were erected.

We are glad we went to Richmond, and intend to go again, when convenient.

Yours, A. GOODEN.

Diseases of Domestic Animals.

It is to be regretted that so few of our farmers and others know so little about the diseases which afflict their domestic animals. There is almost utter and universal ignorance on the subject. The diseases which afflict the cow are said to be very few, perhaps not a dozen kinds. The diseases of animals like those of children who cannot talk are more difficult to diagnose than those of man. Remedies which are beneficial to the human family, as a general thing, good for animals also, if taken, of course, in greater quantities. The observing farmer who has a sick animal can very soon ascertain the nature of its malady if he will consult any good book which treats of the diseases of animals. I had a cow a short time since which was giving over five gallons of milk a day. Her calf was two months old. Her udder began to swell and harden, also two of her teats, from one of which there came bloody milk. She grew stiff and feeble, and the flow of milk decreased over one-half. I did not know what was the matter with her, nor could I ascertain from any of our farmers to whom I described the symptoms. Fortunately a near neighbor told me he had a book which treated of animal complaints, and I found on examining it that my cow had "garget"—a disease of the udder—which causes it to inflame and the flow of milk to cease eventually. She was sick four or five days before I found what the disease was, and she had become so stiff and lame that when down it was hardly possible to get her up. This remedy for this disease is simple and cheap. I gave her a drench of three-fourths of a pound of Epsom Salts dissolved in about a quart of boiling water, to which I added a glass of molasses. I gave her one dose in the forenoon and repeated it in the evening. The remedy acted like magic, for she was able to walk about in two hours, and was well in three days. I have mentioned this instance simply to call attention to the necessity of looking more closely to the diseases of our domestic animals. We owe it to ourselves to do it in a financial sense, and to the poor dumb animals who are unable to help themselves. FARMER.

Tate's Creek Association.

Editor Interior Journal.

The eighty-second annual meeting of Tate's Creek Association of United Baptists, convened at Crab Orchard, August 24th, September 1st and 2d. The introductory session was presided by Dr. A. C. Caperton, of Louisville. After which letters from the churches were read, showing that God had graciously poured His spirit upon almost all the churches during the past year, about 231 having been received by experience and baptism. The Hon. A. T. Chubbard, of Tate's Creek Church, was re-elected Moderator, and H. R. Waters, of Stanford, Clerk. Of the 22 churches composing the body, 19 were represented. The second day was devoted to the testimonial work. Very able addresses were delivered by Elders B. Manly, S. L. Helm, and J. E. Carter. A very large crowd in attendance during the entire session. The greatest harmony and Christian love seemed to prevail. There were about 25 ministering brethren present, among them we mentioned Elders B. Manly, S. L. Helm, A. C. Caperton, Editor Recorder, J. E. Carter, —Calanias, A. F. Baker, J. M. Salter, W. W. Harris, and V. E. Kirtley.—Crab Orchard and vicinity heretofore noted for her hospitality, well sustained her reputation during this association, especially would we mention the names of Misses Kittie B. and Maggie A. Higgins, also Mr. F. Siger and his most estimable lady, where we made our home; whose kindness to us shall ever be engraved upon the tablets of our memory. The next association will be held with Liberty church, Garrard county, the 1st Tuesday in September, 1876.

A BAPTIST.

LARD, STOCK, AND CROP ITEMS.

J. E. HAYES has fifty odd good feeding cattle for sale.

Hay will be scarce this coming winter, and, of course, command a high price.

COL. C. H. BOUTWELL bought of Sam'l Cowan one ear load of extra hells at 4¢ cents.

THOS. WILSON of Boyle county, sold 50 cattle, weighing about 1000 lbs., to Anderson & Miller, at 5¢, per pound.

J. H. BAYNE, of Garrard county, sold to Thos. Elkin, of same county, 15 of his smallest cattle at 4¢ cents per pound.

RICHARD GIVENS, of this county, sold to the Brown Bros., of Shelby county, 60 head of cattle averaging 1181 lbs., at 5¢ cents.

THE continued dry weather will cut off a considerable part of the corn crop. Rain was scarcely, if ever more needed than now.

A LEXINGTON county farmer and trader, spent six or eight thousand dollars in Pulaski county recently, for cattle and sheep.

"Get any hogs to sell?" "Hogs, indeed," replied the men interrogated. "We hadn't seed no hogs in these parts for nigh onto two years."

KATIE, Egypt, and Col. Nelligan won races at Lexington Wednesday. The sport is said to have been very fine during the entire week.

HAZEN and Vagrant won the races at Lexington last Tuesday. Hazen is the gallant little mare that took a good purse at Crab Orchard, last month.

THE fine young animal belonging to our Sheriff, W. B. Withers, was second in a hotly contested race at Lexington, this week, where there were several entries.

HARRISBURG COURT, Sept. 6th.—Good supply of cattle, mostly inferior grade, 34 to 4¢, was the ruling price; rules and horses were rather dull, and few selling at any price.

MELLOS of all kinds are plentiful and cheap; as plentiful as heretofore, but not so good. In fact we do not think they are sufficiently matured and sweet to warrant us in using them much.

PLANET, a magnificent thoroughbred horse, the property of Mr. A. J. Alexander, of Woodford county, died at his stable a few days since. He was a fine animal, and was a great loss to his owner.

SHAWNEE SPRINGS, Mercer County, Ky., Sept. 24.—Short and long yearling cattle, $30 to $45 per head. Unusually bred cows and heifers $75 to $115 per head; two year old males $82 per head; colts $35 per head; horses $75 to $140 per head.

ON account of the want of timely rains our farmers have not been able to do much plowing for wheat or rye. A good soaking shower of several hours duration would greatly bless the tillers of the soil. All signs fall in dry weather, and the cloudy, dewless nights promise no relief.

A REPORTER of the Journal saw a "freak of nature" the other day, which Craddock cannot beat. A sucking male colt was exhibited to him which had three well developed ears, two on one side, and its tail was similar to that of a horse colt, except the small difference in the length. The tail seemed to have been cut off within six inches of its body, but the hair and the small remnant was similar to that of a horse colt.

A GOODLY number of the people from this county, Boyle and Garrard, attended the sale at the residence of the late James L. Bruce, on Wednesday. Stock of all kinds, and other personal estate, sold for only moderate prices. The land was offered, but as only $25 per acre was bid, the same was withdrawn to await a better market.—This land is said to be worth much more than the offered bid, as it lies in an angle of three townships, and is within a few miles of three county seats.

It is sold by all Druggists, and is a household remedy for all such ailments. It is sold by all Druggists, and is a household remedy for all such ailments.

HOME JOTTINGS.
COUNTY COURT held next Monday.
Rev. Mr. Ballou, will preach at the Christian Church, next Sunday, at 11 o'clock.
The repairs done on the Male Seminary make the old building look much better and far more comfortable.
The Vendition House has been rented by Mr. Samuel Hardin, of Livingston Station. He will take possession next week.

The Lincoln County Court was in session two days this week, but there was only a small docket and but little business done.
Rev. A. B. Rader, having removed to Richmond, Ky., desires us to say that his friends will please hereafter address him at that place.
Castle Buford has fewer boarders now than for some months past. There are a few there, however, lying in bed for next month's Court.

The Boyle County Court has been in session since last Monday, and will continue twelve days. The docket is said to be small, and of little interest.
Our Foreman has taken the place of our Business Manager—as far as happiness is concerned. His assistant sent him a treat of ice cream and cake, which was delicious.

All of our schools will open on Monday next, with an increased number of pupils over former sessions. The present Fall and Winter terms promise to be unusually prosperous.
"The grinders cease" because the water is low, and not because the aforesaid grinders are few. Our numerous water mills have almost ceased running on account of the absence of rain.

In entering the Dry Goods and Clothing Store of Hayden Bros, we were struck with the large and varied Fall Stock they had just received, and the low prices at which they are selling their goods.
Last Cow—A medium-sized, red, scrub cow, with some white spots—seven or eight years old. Her ribs are slightly driven in on the right side. Any information of her will be thankfully received.

PERSONAL.—Miss Jennie B. Apperson, the accomplished music teacher of the Stanford Female College, returned on Monday last. Miss Myers is expected back to day, and Miss Hart, Saturday. Session opens Monday.
The colored people of our town and vicinity, have a very good school now in session, under the control of a colored man named Brown. The school is fairly attended, and the boys and girls seem to delight in attending.

In the course of human events it becomes our pleasant duty to say to the friends of Mr. James E. Bruce and the public generally, that he has always "on hand" the best horses, vehicles and drivers, and that horses left in his charge will be well attended to.
We saw a statement the other day, that a certain county in this State had a larger number of miles of turnpike than any other. If any one county can show, by actual statistics, a greater number than the county of Lincoln, we are ready and willing to hear from that section.

WESTWARD HO!—The same stream of emigrants has begun from the hills of East Tennessee and North Carolina, bound for the Gulf and the Pacific, as we saw last year. A number of wagon loads with two-headed children and bare-footed women, passed through town this week. Within less than two years, half or all of them that pass back over the same trail, bent on reaching "that cool spring on the mountain side" away down among the healthy hills and valleys of their old homes.

Mr. J. A. Wallace, of this county, who accidentally shot himself in the leg, in attempting to shoot a dog, about two weeks ago, died on yesterday morning from the effects of the wound. His funeral will be preached at his late residence to-day, at 10 o'clock, A. M., by Rev. O. G. Dyer.

We learn that nearly, if not all the deposits on the C. & R. R. have been laid out by the engineers, and that in most cases general satisfaction has been given by the different sections where they have been placed. Several of them in this and adjoining counties are destined to be used in considerable trading places.

"I KNEW it would rain, for all the morn a spirit on slender threads of mist, was lowering his golden buckets down into the valleys beneath." This was Aldrich, the poet. We would like to have that spirit come around this way with his slender threads, and as many buckets as he can conveniently carry.

The law against carrying concealed deadly weapons is almost a dead letter. Not a day passes that we do not hear of some one, block or hide, being guilty of a violation of the statute. We predict a lively time before the third July of the coming October term of the Lincoln County Court on account of a violation of this very proper law.

We are requested by one reporter who wrote the communication about the Grange picnic, to state that he has not been invited to mention that Mr. A. K. Denny made a most excellent speech on the occasion, of which all who heard him speak in the highest terms. The omission, he says, was caused by his not getting on the grounds until after Mr. Denny had delivered his address.

Miss Fannie Swanson, wife of our townsmen, Samuel H. Swanson, died on Sunday last, after a short illness, of inflammation of the stomach and bowels, who leaves three little girls, motherless, the youngest being only a few weeks old. The bereaved sympathies of all our citizens go out to Mr. Swanson and his little ones, in this hour of their greatest sorrow.

MANY loads of wheat have been delivered at our Depot during the past week, which are destined for the markets at Louisville and other points. The price paid for the wheat, and water as any other section of our great State, that Lincoln county has as many miles of excellent pike roads, as any other, and that we have now a railroad running across us and another running through in a different direction, which will be complete in less than a year, we can readily understand why it is that the tide of emigration flows this way. We say to all who wish a pleasant home in a land of plenty, and where health abounds, come this way. You will meet those who will extend to you a cordial greeting. The Knoxville Branch of the L. & N. R. R. passes immediately through our town. The Cincinnati Southern railroad will have a depot within six or eight miles of us, and both of these roads pass over a splendid scope of country. Our lands, though good, are not of a very high price. We say to all who wish a pleasant home—Come!

Mount Vista.
This part of the county has been represented in the Journal for weeks, as people giving you a few jottings. The farmers have been wide-awake to their own interest, in harvesting everything that will sustain the life of man and beast, and now cutting weeds in order that the fall grain may come on more rapidly. The corn crop is very promising; if the frost will hold off two or three weeks, corn will be very plentiful.

THE Sunday School here, is in a flourishing condition; Superintendent Bobbitt was on hand, with a smile on his face, and a broad beam on his head, looking as if he had been taking lessons under William Penn. There was quite a sensation produced when it was announced that about a half score of young ladies and gentlemen would leave on next Friday, for Christian College at Columbia. We saw several young men pale, and chins quiver like aspen leaves, while their hearts within, beat so heavily that buttons leaped from their bosoms. Poor fellows, are they sorry for you, but cheer up. Sick to your mills and farms by day, and Blackstone's Commentary, and "Chickadee" by night, for Christmas is coming.

They say there will be a wedding in the neighborhood, or somewhere else, ere long. Keep your stomachs in good order for a piece of cake, for he is too old to run off.
Mr. J. A. Wallace is suffering very much from an accidental shot in the calf of the leg.
BORN to the wife of A. J. Baker, a four-year-and-a-half pound boy Baker.

ALPHA.
Crab Orchard.
Your valuable paper is received at this place regularly every Friday evening, and an incessant cry is set up by its many readers, why let them not something from Crab Orchard? Therefore, to gratify, to some extent, the desire of an enthusiastic, home-loving people, we undertake in a bungling manner, to chronicle a few of the passing events connected with this, the East end of the county.

For the past two months, considerable life has been infused into our little town by the presence of pleasure seekers and invalids who resorted to this popular and healthy locality, to while away a few of their summer hours. The last two weeks have been equally a feast to the sporting character and the Christian. One week has been devoted to horse racing, the other to an associated body of Golly people. The races, in point of order, were unimpaired. There was not a disturbance of any kind. But the attendance was very small. But the Association that convened with the Baptist Church last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday was indeed a success. It speaks well for Crab Orchard, when it can be truthfully said that the attendance at the Association was fully double that of the horse race. It shows that Religion is still in the ascendency here.

For some reason unknown to us, there will be no school at the Crab Orchard Springs College this season, in consequence of which, Mrs. S. E. H. Tarrant, has opened a first class French School, near our depot, and we earnestly hope she will meet with the liberal patronage she so justly deserves. Besides being a competent instructor in all the different branches of education, she proposes to teach her pupils economy, honoring the practice of idleness and extravagant fashions.

Dr. J. B. S. Frazier, who settled in our midst some months ago, finding this community mostly, financially, to give him an adequate return for his valuable services, has decided to seek another field of operation. The Doctor, as well as his estimable family, have endeavored themselves to this whole community, and we reluctantly give them up, and heartily commend him to any locality that may be fortunate enough to obtain his services as an eminent physician, a useful citizen and a zealous Christian man.

W. S. MYERS, of this place, is a candidate for Door-keeper of the House of Representatives, and as he has been unfortunately of late, we hope the Legislature will give him a favorable consideration.
Dr. J. G. CARPENTER, from your town, has recently located in our midst, and being a young man of highly moral habits, and studious disposition, we predict for him an early, liberal practice.

On Monday morning last, a little altercation took place between the slaves of Dr. J. G. Carpenter and David Locket, colored. Locket interfered, either to assist or separate, when Locket struck him with a stone, from which he died in less than two hours. Locket surrounded himself to the proper officer. The trial is set for Wednesday, at 9 o'clock.

LATER.—The examining trial of David Locket for killing Ben Voss took place Wednesday before Judge Hurd and Judge Pollard. He was pronounced guilty of murder, and is now in jail awaiting the sitting of the next term of the Circuit Court.
We were not present at the sale of Mrs. Margaret Garvey, Tuesday, but are informed that considerable property was disposed of at moderate prices. The house and lot was withdrawn and sold privately, to T. C. Humber, at the immediately low price of $1,700.

Our genial friend and U. S. Store Keeper, J. B. Hudkins, has been in Virginia for some time, on a gold hunting expedition. A hidden success too.
CASEY COUNTY NEWS.
Fry's Creek.
Mr. J. A. CARROLL, of this neighborhood, has recently rented the "Nagler Hotel" in Liberty. He will take charge of the same, about 1st November, probably sooner. Mr. C. is a clever gentleman, and we hope he will receive a liberal patronage from the public generally.

Mr. EDWARDS and son, recently took a piscatorial tour to Brush Creek, in this county, meeting with abundant success, considering their fishing tackle, which consisted of bows and arrows. Though you may bet, with these, they proved a terror to the finny tribe.
We learn that Mr. R. F. Vermilion, of Boyle, is still manufacturing and selling that excellent Cutting-hoe he invented about two years ago. We have been told it excels any hoe in use.

The members of Roberts' Chapel Grange had a feast of good things on the 25th ult. We can't say it was public, yet, several who were not members of the order, were invited and did participate. It seems to be a custom peculiar to their fraternity, when a member reaches the summit of a Subordinate Lodge, to give him something to eat. We presume the feast of which we have just spoken, was one of this kind.
SOMETHING REMARKABLE.—We give your readers the following, for which we are responsible: William E. Harris has a bound that a short time since, produced a litter of pups that were taken from her and drowned. After she had moaned over their loss for a day or two, and seemingly determined to display the carcass of another, she returned to her stable under the floor of Mr. E. H. Hurd, took charge of a very young piglet, and is now raising it to her own piteous.

Mr. W. S. WENTWORTH, residing from Little South Fork, Casey county, has long out his sign as an Artist, at Mr. John Lane's, on the head of Big South Fork. Persons who desire their "portraits" taken, can be accommodated by giving him a call. Come along boys, and bring your sweethearts.
Mr. W. S. WENTWORTH and wife, recently made a visit to relatives near Crab Orchard. During their absence, some nocturnal visitor made a raid on his meat-house, taking therefrom about 50 lbs. of bacon, also several bushels of wheat are missing. No clue to the thief.

PERSONAL.—Chas. Adams and lady, from Louisville, are now visiting relatives in this vicinity. Samuel H. Woodson, from Boyle county, is on a visit to his grandmother's at this time. His (Mr. W.) friends were much rejoiced to see him return.

CARROLL COUNTY NEWS.
Lawrence.
WORK has been commenced on the new Engine house which is to be built in the centre of the public square, for the purpose of protecting the Fire Engine in case the town is burnt, and under the superintendence of Mr. Han Brown, will soon be completed.

THE schools here, opened yesterday morning, with a full attendance. The Franklin Institute commencing with 75 students, and Mr. E. F. Hudson's male school, with forty.

We are glad to note the convalescence of our brother-in-law, Mr. Jas. A. Anderson, who has been suffering sometime with an attack of the chills.

A PRIZE RACED meeting has been going on at Pleasant Grove Church for some time, conducted by Gen. R. A. Gano, and has been largely attended. There have been about 40 additions to the church, so far.

OUR Circuit Court closed Saturday night with not near all the business set for the present term disposed of, consequently, many of the cases had to be continued over to the next October term.

FANCY DRESS HOP.—One of the most elegant and pleasant hops of the season, was given by the young men of the town, on last Tuesday evening, at the "Lancaster Hotel," in honor of the young ladies visiting here.

Among the visitors at the hop, were Miss Smith and Miss Jennings, Richmond, Ky.; Miss Wilber, Indiana; Miss Jennie McKee, Cincinnati; Miss Rice, Arkansas; Miss Simmons, Ky.; and many others, whom we had not the pleasure of knowing. Besides these lady visitors, Garrard county furnished her galaxy of beauty, and the merry dance went on until the " wee sma' " hours away the twal.

Dr. H. C. WILSON was arrested here yesterday evening, charged with having two money wives, and wanting another. He came here in company with a young girl, about 19 years old, and a negro man and wife, at the "Carson House," from Madison county. He is the same gentleman that the Clarion-Journal spoke of, a few days ago, as running off with a young girl, leaving a wife and family in Franklin county, and also one in Franklin county. He acknowledged his guilt here, last night. He said he had not married the girl that came up with him, but they intended going to Kansas, and there entering into the holy state of matrimony. We advise him to take all his wives and emigrate to Salt Lake City, where he can revel in the sweet salubrity of as many wives as his craving heart may long for.

Patrons of Husbandry.
WHEREAS, The Patrons of Husbandry have been grossly misrepresented during the Summer by designing men for political purposes—in that they have charged us with proposing to interfere with the question of labor, and that of supporting our fair office, simply because they were Grangers, &c., &c. In order to repel such fallacious charges, therefore, it is resolved by the Grangers of Stanford in regular meeting assembled, August 29th, 1875.

1st, That it has never been our purpose to disturb the relation of the laborer and the employer, nor is it our intention to do so. We think it to be the duty of employer and the employed free to arrange for themselves as to their mutual good. That while we thus speak we hereby declare that we are decidedly and emphatically opposed to every species of extortion, let it come from whatever source it may, but we are in favor of the laborer having a fair and just compensation for his labor.

2d, That we as Patrons hereby declare and say that we are under no obligations to vote for any man, for any office, simply because he is a member of the order, but duty as good citizens dictates to us to vote for men of moral and intellectual qualifications, and for no others.

3d, That we again declare that we are non-political as an organization, and that as such we make no war upon any man, or any set of men. That we simply desire to avoid ourselves of the benefits of one of the oldest and best of laws, even the law of self-preservation and protection.

4th, That each Grange in the county be requested to take into consideration these resolutions and act to them as seemeth proper, and that these proceedings be published in the Interior Journal and Kentucky Advocate.

The pulled some roses with dew,
The pulled some roses with dew.

Then, out of the garden gate,
The pulled some roses with dew,
The pulled some roses with dew,
The pulled some roses with dew.
